DETAILED ACTION

Claim Rejections - 35 USC § 103

The following is a quotation of 35 U.S.C. 103(a) which forms the basis for all obviousness rejections set forth in this Office action:

(a) A patent may not be obtained though the invention is not identically disclosed or described as set forth in section 102 of this title, if the differences between the subject matter sought to be patented and the prior art are such that the subject matter as a whole would have been obvious at the time the invention was made to a person having ordinary skill in the art to which said subject matter pertains. Patentability shall not be negated by the manner in which the invention was made.

Claims 15, 19-33, 36, and 37 are rejected under 35 U.S.C. 103(a) as being unpatentable over Eriksson and/or Palasis, et al., in view of Prausnitz, et al., Rosenberg, and Lastovich, et al., and in further view of [Hjertman, Carson et al., Kling, Son, or Riethmueller]. The Ericksson and Palasis, et al., Patents do not expressly disclose a microneedle having the range of 31 to 50 gauge, or a bevel angle between 20 and 90 degrees. However, the use of microneedles having the above-cited ranges is conventional in the art as evidenced by the Prausnitz, et al., Rosenberg, and Lastovich Patents.

The Prausnitz, et al., Patent discloses a microneedle infusion system utilizing microneedles with a 30 gauge. Moreover, Rosenberg discloses a transdermal delivery device having microneedles with 15 to 40 gauge. Finally, the Lastovich, et al., Patent discloses another infusion system having microneedles with bevel angles of 15 to 35 degrees.

Based on the teachings of Prausnitz, et al., Rosenberg, and Lastovich, et al., and the conventionality of the above enhancements, for a person of ordinary skill in the art, the modification of the infusion systems disclosed by Eriksson and Palasis, et al., with microneedles having the range of 31 to 50 gauge, or a bevel angles between 20 and 90 degrees, would have been considered obvious design choices.

Finally, in relation to the use of limiters surrounding needles, it is important to recognize that such limiters are conventional in the art as evidenced by the teachings of Hjertman, Carson et al., Kling, Son, and Riethmueller. These patents demonstrate that the use of limiters to surround needles and to selectively ensure depth of infusion is a concept well known in the art of needles.

Accordingly, for a person of ordinary skill in the art, modifying the apparatuses disclosed by Eriksson or Palasis, et al. with a limiter that surrounds a needle and a skin engaging surface, would have been considered obvious in view of the proven conventionality of these enhancements, and furthermore, because of the improved safety standards of the infusion needles.

Conclusion

Applicant's amendment necessitated the new ground(s) of rejection presented in this Office action. Accordingly, THIS ACTION IS MADE FINAL. See MPEP § 706.07(a). Applicant is reminded of the extension of time policy as set forth in 37 CFR 1.136(a).

A shortened statutory period for reply to this final action is set to expire THREE MONTHS from the mailing date of this action. In the event a first reply is filed within TWO MONTHS of the mailing date of this final action and the advisory action is not mailed until after the end of the THREE-MONTH shortened statutory period, then the shortened statutory period will expire on the date the advisory action is mailed, and any extension fee pursuant to 37 CFR 1.136(a) will be calculated from the mailing date of the advisory action. In no event, however, will the statutory period for reply expire later than SIX MONTHS from the date of this final action.
